From the Last Chance App-Point-ment Show Staff —
We want to take the time to thank every single person, helping and showing, from coast to coast, and from our own back yards. Thanks, also for the faith and support expressed over the previous years which has been carried through to this year. This has been another exciting show to put together and execute, and we hope everything has gone as planned for you as it has for us! We would like to thank all our sponsors, volunteers and helpers; without their help, this show would not go so smoothly. We'd also like to thank John and Johnell McLean for all their time and energy to produce this super nice ad book. Without all of you this show would not be what it is!

World's Smartest Vet

By David A. Rustebakke, DVM
Oct 6, 2000

Brand new diploma hanging on the wall,
My name's on the sign outside.
I'm the brand new country vet,
And so far, nothing has died!

I've been schooled till my head is full
Of at least a million facts.
I'm at ease with most any disease,
I'm educated to the max!

Medicine, surgery, dentistry too,
Reproduction, large and small.
Laboratory procedures, yes,
I can do it all!

I'm about as smart as they come,
Could get an advanced degree!
Specialized, certified, piece of cake,
Could even get a PhD!

So what am I doing, standing here,
Up to my knees in mud?
Behind this rusty old cattle chute,
I'm caked with all kinds of crud!

Green and brown stuff fills the air,
I'm plastered from head to toe!
The last cow in peed in my boot,
That reminds me, I've gotta go!

But there's no time for that, this cow I'm in
Is hard to diagnose.
I'm up to my shoulder, still no calf,
There! I touched it! I'm getting close!

"Pregnant!" I announce, "Purt near six months!"

It's written in the book.
Boss man looks me in the eye,
He's got a funny look.

Hired man's rolling on the ground,
As my guts are gripped with fear!
Seems the world's smartest vet
Just found a pregnant steer!

Have you read this new book....

"Sometimes a Woman Needs a Horse"

(a personal story of discovery of a spiritual message in the horse and rider experience)
By Betsy Talcott Kelleher

While training her first horse, a headstrong Appaloosa mare, the author struggles to find effective partnership. Share the excitement of competitive trail riding, of meeting Sally Swift and learning the amazing influence of her Centered Riding basic principles. See how horse training principles parallels Christian discipleship! You might find a life changing message in this book.

Get on board with 100x World and National Champion Mark Shaffer as he covers the true facts of the horse's mechanics in motion. This six-hour, two-disc set introduces the methods and techniques that hold the key to success in the show pen. In the DVD, Mark explains and demonstrates the methods and exercises that will provide a clear understanding of achieving physical and mental focus with your horse. He will also emphasize the extreme importance of transitions as well as detailing several exercises to enhance your current program.
